Google knows that its Photos app is a good one – after all, it has spurned its own community.

Google also likes to integrate neat new features into its Photos apps and it has a wonderful community that enjoys its Featured Photos Screensaver for Chromecast.

As such, the company has finally gone the extra mile for Mac owners! For the longest time, the company has offered incredible backdrops for its Chromecast users via a Featured Photos Screensaver, which can showcase one's own photos or the 'best' photos from the community at large.
